

Are you well-led?

One of the five key questions the CQC asks all care providers as part of an inspection is 'Are you well-led?' with a focus on five key lines of enquiry as part of this 'well-led' domain:

- 1 Is there a clear vision and credible strategy to deliver high-quality care and support, and promote a positive culture that is person-centred, open, inclusive and empowering, which achieves good outcomes for people?
- 2 Does the governance framework ensure that responsibilities are clear and that quality performance, risks and regulatory requirements are understood and managed?
- 3 How are the people who use the service, the public and staff engaged and involved?
- 4 How does the service continuously learn, improve, innovate and ensure sustainability?
- 5 How does the service work in partnership with other agencies?

In summary, for the CQC to establish that your organisation is well-led, you must demonstrate that your leadership, management and governance is making sure you're providing high-quality care that's based around individual needs, that it encourages learning and innovation, and that it promotes an open and fair culture.
